Goodman here, welcoming you to Gen Con 2015! Come visit Goodman Games at booth #525. It's been another great year for Goodman Games and I'm very excited to present this year's Program Guide. This annual publication has become an important milestone. It summarizes all the fun we've had in the previous year, kicks off the announcements and new releases for the coming year, and of course is chock full of gaming goodness!

This year's Program Guide features tons of new material! If you're a fan of our products, it's a whopping huge cross-section of usable game material, including four new DCC RPG adventures plus new Metamorphosis Alpha and Xcrawl articles. We pay homage to the industry's founders with some Judges Guild material, and an interview with "the original dice guy" Colonel Lou Zocchi (who is here at Gen Con!). Our ongoing interest in the art of gaming is reflected by art folios for both Doug Kovacs and William McAusland, and we trace the industry's origins in fantasy literature with two stories by Brendan LaSalle. And of course, Archmage Abby is back with help for your love life!

I hope you have a blast at Gen Con this year, and enjoy this program guide. Every year is bigger and better for Goodman Games. This year we let ourselves daydream with the front cover image of the wizard van. It's not a reality yet...but there's always next year, and at this rate, who knows what lies ahead?
