Foreword

Welcome to Malevolent and Benign: A First Edition Bestiary! It is with great pleasure that we at Expeditious Retreat Press bring to you a new bestiary with over 150 monsters for First Edition play. We believe you will find numerous enjoyable monsters within this tome with which to vex your players.

Malevolent and Benign has a happenstance origin. We at XRP were busy in the old-school renaissance producing our Advanced Adventures line of modules when we noticed a slow accumulation of exciting new monsters with that delicious old-school flavor. This, coupled with some OGL monster conversions I did for the Old-School Gazette, gave us a healthy start for a full-fledged monster book so I decided to find some of the most interesting and fun monsters from our Monster Geographica line and convert them into the edition I grew up playing.

Because, truth be told, the real origin of Malevolent and Benign begins back in 1981 with my first character (a fighter, I believe) who went on his first adventure. The moment he fell into a pit trap and died, I was hooked. I suspect that we all share similar moments, be they in different years or with different success rates. It is because of that moment that Malevolent and Benign really exists.

But any thoughts of the past must be accompanied with a deep gratitude and a debt of thanks to Gary Gygax. His unfortunate passing has left a hole in world that, at least for me, will remain for a long time. Although I did not know the man well, our few exchanges were pleasant and I can truly say that there are few who would take the time to talk about the milk production of the humble bovine via e-mail. Thank you Gary, for your gift to us all!

Gary bears the lion's share of my gratitude, but there are many others from that age that helped form my preferred gaming aesthetic. Tom Moldvay is perhaps second only to Gary, but I am also deeply indebted to the artists Otis, Sutherland, Dee, Trampier, Willingham, and Roslof for putting images into my mind that guide with me when creating new material for First Edition. I hope the art contained within Malevolent and Benign seems as appropriate to you, gentle reader, as it does to me.

Well, enough of my ramblings, on with the show!

EPICUREAN

SIZE: Large (8 ft. long) MOVE: 30 ft. ARMOR CLASS: 7 HIT DICE: 3+3 ATTACKS: 1 DAMAGE: 1-8 SPECIAL ATTACKS: Spells SPECIAL DEFENSES: See below MAGIC RESISTANCE: None RARITY: Rare NO. ENCOUNTERED: 1 LAIR PROBABILITY: 90% TREASURE: In Lair: 3-24 cp, 3-18 sp, 2-12 ep, 2-8 gp, 1-6 pp, 1-4 gems (50%) INTELLIGENCE: High ALIGNMENT: Neutral LEVEL/X.P.: 3 / 145 + 3/hp

General information: While most races claim that epicureans received their bodies as a punishment for gluttony, the epicureans, who refer to themselves as na-sashlan, say that the gods offered their ancestors mastery of a single sense. The na-sashlan chose taste, and they have since become exquisite connoisseurs of flavor. In addition, they have mastered the nature of hunger—not only hunger for food, but lusts for power and beauty. This mastery is a part of their being, and despite their grotesque bodies, they can incite passions in living creatures through secret motions and magic.

Epicureans are consummate gluttons, and most spend their lives searching for exotic tastes and lesser sensory experiences. While some are amused by manipulating other creatures, they avoid each other, despising their appearance. Their morals tend to be questionable, but they rarely aid truly evil beings; their greed is for small pleasures, not power or destruction.

Epicureans have the ability to eat at a distance. They can target any object within 30 feet and magically taste and digest it as if it was inside the formidable stomach of a na-sashlan. This causes 1-8 hit points of damage to any targeted creature. A save against spells reduces this damage by half.

The na-sashlan can use emotion as a spell-like ability up to 5 times per day. The effects of an epicurean's emotion lasts 2 rounds after it ceases concentration. At will, a na-sashlan can create taste illusions. These are the taste equivalent of audible glamour and can either be cast upon an item to be consumed or upon a target. who is allowed a save against spells to resist. These taste illusions can last up to 1 hour if the epicurean wishes. This can be used as a weapon of sorts as a creature affected may suffer a -2 to hit if the epicurean chooses to fill its mouth will foulness.

In their search for new and intriguing experiences, some epicureans have adapted to humanoid societies. They prefer to live in luxurious homes away from cities, attended to by slaves and servants. Much of the time, an epicurean's servants work in exchange for training. Most hope that the na-sashlan's knowledge of taste will allow them to perfect their cooking, but some seek to refine their own abilities to control others' emotions. In the wild, as it is, epicureans will often be found among sprites, nymphs, pixies, satyrs and other sylvan creatures who find joy and pleasure in the nasashlan's taste illusions.

Languages: Epicureans speak common and at least two other languages, typically sylvan in orientation.

Physical description: Epicureans have 7-foot-long bodies resembling mottled, green-skinned caterpillars. They have no legs, however, and are barely strong enough to push themselves across the ground. Their emerald eyes sit above their prominent mouths, barely reachable by their fat and stubby arms. Most remarkable are their tongues. Half the length of their bodies, deep purple, and incredibly strong, they are tipped with tiny buds that add to their sensitivity. Epicureans carry an odor of chestnuts about them and have a well-known penchant for fine tobaccos.

GIANT, WOOD

SIZE: Large (9 ft. tall) MOVE: 150 ft. ARMOR CLASS: 5 HIT DICE: 7 + 1-3 ATTACKS: 1 DAMAGE: By weapon + 7 SPECIAL ATTACKS: None SPECIAL DEFENSES: See below MAGIC RESISTANCE: None RARITY: Rare NO. ENCOUNTERED: 2-20 LAIR PROBABILITY: 10% TREASURE: Individual: 30-180 sp, 20-120 ep, 20-80 gp; In Lair: 1-8k cp (50%), 1-6k sp (25%), 1-4k ep (25%), 1-3k gp (25%), 1-8 gems (30%), 1-4 jewelry (20%), sword, armor, or misc. weapon (10%) INTELLIGENCE: Average ALIGNMENT: Chaotic good LEVEL/X.P.: 6 / 550 + 10/hp

General information: Wood giants dress in greens or browns which blend into the surrounding forest and prefer neutral colors to the bright or dull colors of other races. They typically carry great swords, and huge bows rest upon their backS. Their swords do 2-12 hit points of damage while their bows do 2-8. They are able to attack twice per round while using their bows. They usually attack from ambush, hiding in dense undergrowth and firing at their prey with their bows before closing to melee with their swords.

Wood giants lair in meadows, where they build gigantic homes out of rough-hewn logs. It is easy for the inexperienced to confuse the great houses of the wood giants for a hill giant steading at a distance. Although drab appearing from the exterior, the interior is always filled with intricate and lovinglycarved wooden works.

Within this lair there will be a leader with no fewer than 50 hit points who does +8 damage. Wood giants tend to be led by females, who form the center of families and clans, maintaining the complex genealogies that form much of the focus of wood giant society. Wood giants do not toss rocks, finding such behavior very undignified.

Wood giants typically wear a tough armor made from leather and treated bark. They are able to hide and move silently with 50% success while in the forest.

Languages: Wood giants speak their own tongue and elven.

Physical description: Wood giants are peaceful, good-natured giants found in the forested areas of the world. Wood giants look much like elves, only they stand a full 9 feet tall. Wood giants have large heads and prominent jaws; their elf-like ears sit high on their long, oval heads. Most wood giants (particularly males) are bald. Their skin is usually brownish-green.

GOLEM, AMALGAM

SIZE: Large (12 ft. tall) MOVE: 90 ft. ARMOR CLASS: 1 HIT DICE: 100 hit points ATTACKS: 2 DAMAGE: 3-24, 3-24 SPECIAL ATTACKS: Adhesive orb SPECIAL DEFENSES: Weapon adhesion MAGIC RESISTANCE: See below RARITY: Very Rare NO. ENCOUNTERED: 1 LAIR PROBABILITY: 100% TREASURE: See below INTELLIGENCE: None ALIGNMENT: Neutral LEVEL/X.P.: 10 / 16.300

General information: Considered by some as the pinnacle of golem creation, the amalgam golem is a fearsome guardian created from stone and natural tar coupled with a fiery elemental spirit. An amalgam golem is a dire foe who usually opens combat by throwing a flaming adhesive orb at the most heavily armored opponent. If it hits, an adhesive orb deals 2-12 hit points of damage, plus an additional 1-4 points of fire damage. Furthermore, the tar adheres to the target's armor, causing the target to be entangled for 2-12 rounds, -1 round for every point of strength and dexterity above 14 the target possesses. Every round spent entangled in an adhesive orb deals another 1-4 hit points of fire damage. An amalgam golem then targets other opponents with its powerful fists. In addition to striking, it will hurl another adhesive orb every 8 rounds, focusing foremost upon heavily armored opponents.

The thick tar that holds the golem together is a powerful adhesive, and it holds fast any items that touch it. A weapon striking an amalgam golem is stuck fast unless the wielder makes a successful open doors roll. Any stuck items are easily removed if the golem is somehow slain. This trait results in older golems accumulating large amounts of weaponry. The golems will typically move all adhered weapons to their core after a day on their surface. If slain, 2-20 differing weapons will be found in the center of an amalgam golem. The majority will be non-magical, but 1 out of every 5 of them will possess some magical ability of note.

After 5 rounds of combat, the fiery elemental spirit within the amalgam golem asserts its will and immolates the golem in a flaming inferno, causing
